

FUTURE BY DESIGN CHALLENGE!

Imagine you've landed in a school, 30 years from now. Things would likely look pretty different. Or would they?

In this design challenge, your task is to design a future purpose for objects and spaces that we see in schools today. A pen might be re-purposed to become a holograph wand, and an assembly hall to become a teleportation machine! Write or draw your future purpose for the things below.

The only rule is there are no limits, and everything is possible. So brainstorm big!

a basketball hoop

a canteen
